

The background of the entire page is decorated with a lush border of tropical plants. On the left and right sides, there are branches with various types of leaves, including large, heart-shaped monstera leaves with characteristic holes, and smaller, more delicate fern-like leaves. The colors range from vibrant greens to muted yellows and oranges. At the bottom left, a pink bear is partially visible, and at the bottom right, a yellow tiger is partially visible. Small musical notes are scattered around the bottom corners.
